Subj: Record of Proceedings, Court of Inquiry to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the armed attack on USS LIBERTY (AGTR-5) on 8 June 1967 (U)

Encl: (1) RADM I. C. KIDD, USN ltr of 18 June 1967 with Endorsements one through six, forwarding subject record of proceedings

1. The remarks and conclusions of the first endorsement as modified by the second endorsement have been noted. Those relating to command and control and to communication actions and procedures are considered to be within the purview of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, since LIBERTY was carrying out a JCS-directed mission. As noted in enclosure (1) to the third endorsement, these aspects of the LIBERTY incident have been examined by a JCS-appointed fact-finding team. As a related matter, the Chief of Naval Operations has directed that a comprehensive study be undertaken to inquire into all aspects of the operations of all ships of the same general category as U.S.S. LIBERTY for the purpose of improving command and control procedures. This study is currently going on.

2. With reference to the remaining recommendations of the second endorsement:

a. Recommendation 4.b: the shortage of radiomen second class and above is a well-recognized problem of long standing. The Chief of Naval Personnel has advised that at the end of FY 1968 the projected strength of RM2 and above will be approximately 85% of stated requirements. Every effort is being made to fill the shortage. In regard to training and upgrading of RM2 and above, the Communications Systems Technical Control School provides graduates of the Radioman Class B School with twelve weeks of instruction in the communications systems used in the technical control centers of the Naval and Defense Communications Systems, leading to designation as Communications System Technical Operator (RM-2318) or Communications System Technical Supervisor (RM-2319). The output of this school has been four classes per year, 30 RM-2318 and 30 RM-2319 per class. It is planned to double the output of the school.
